TYPES OF PATIENT CARE

Cancer

Cancer is a disease in which some of the body's cells grow uncontrollably and spread to other parts of the body.

Congestive heart failure

A chronic condition in which the heart doesn't pump blood as well as it should. Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD) - A group of lung diseases that block airflow and make it difficult to breathe.

Kidney disease

kidneys are damaged and can't filter blood the way they should.

Alzheimer's

progressive mental deterioration that can occur in middle or old age, due to generalized degeneration of the brain. It is the commonest cause of premature senility.

Parkinson's

a chronic progressive neurological disease chiefly of later life that is linked to decreased dopamine production in the substantia nigra and is marked especially by tremor of resting muscles, rigidity, slowness of movement, impaired balance, and a shuffling gait.

Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS)

A nervous system disease that weakens muscles and impacts physical function.

HIV/AIDS - HIV (human immunodeficiency virus)

It is a virus that attacks the body's immune system. If HIV is not treated, it can lead to AIDS (acquired immunodeficiency syndrome). Learning the basics about HIV can keep you healthy and prevent HIV transmission.

Idiopathic Pulmonary Fibrosis - Idiopathic pulmonary fibrosis

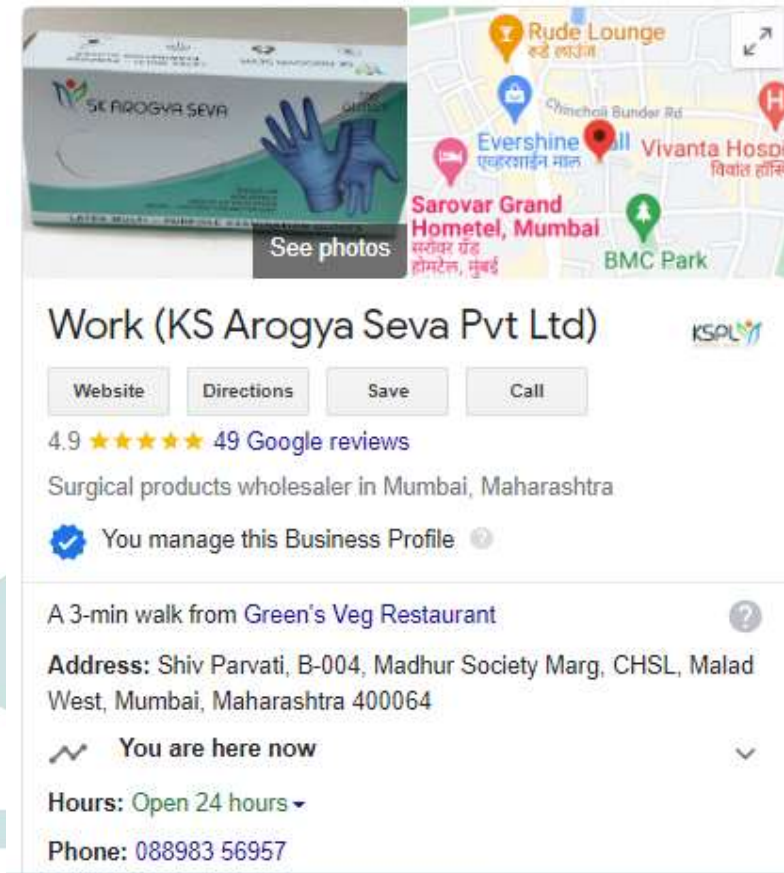

It is a chronic, progressive lung disease. This condition causes scar tissue (fibrosis) to build up in the lungs, which makes the lungs unable to transport oxygen into the bloodstream effectively. The disease usually affects people between the ages of 50 and 70.
